LACQUER CO. TO START OPERATIONS AIR CONCLAVE TO BE CALLED

SIX BUILDINGS TO HOUSE NEW NITRATE WORKS

Ninety Days Set As Time for Beginning Of Manufacture

Completion and beginning of construction of the new nitrate works at the Stauffer Chemical Company plant, was announced yesterday by R. T. Orendain of Oakland, superintendent of the plant. The plant is being built for the manufacture of nitrate cotton for use in lacquers, and is being built by the Stauffer Chemical Company Incorporated of San Francisco.

Work Began April 21
Work was begun on the plant April 21, with the laying of the concrete work. From the first E. J. Fry of the Meigs, Bassett and Slaughter company of Philadelphia has been in charge of construction. Fry will remain to see the plant finished and operating successfully before he leaves.

Six Brick Buildings
Most of the brickwork is now finished including a large stack for the boiler room. There are six brick buildings where the various processes of nitrating cotton are carried on, and the last of these structures is now nearing completion. Orendain, the superintendent, remarked that the work had been done in record time, since the brick contractor, L. C. Larsen, of San Francisco, started on the buildings three weeks ago.

Opposite Stauffer Co.
The plant is located directly opposite the Stauffer Chemical Company, where supplies can be obtained without freight charges. An overhead pipe is to be run from the Stauffer plant in order to pump the necessary nitric acid to the Lacquer corporations yards. The boiler house has the boilers installed in it already, and all that remains to complete it is the roof.

Fume Stack Begun
In several of the other buildings also, the machinery has been installed. Two large tanks in the nitrating house are now in place, and the fume stack was begun yesterday. The inside of the stack will be lined with vitrified sewer pipe, which will not waste away under the action of the nitric acid fumes.

'LINDY' ASKED TO HEAD HUGE AIR COMPANY

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—What promises to be the best opportunity for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is the decision of a large number of St. Louis capitalists and business men today to form an airplane manufacturing company, with at least $1,000,000 financial resources, and give him charge of it.

Those backing this project represent the most solid interests in the city. The determination of the leaders to go on with the project was indicated by their phoning him and obtaining his assurance that he would commit himself to no offer of any kind until he returns here and consults with his closest advisers. The name Lindbergh, as the head of a company, and as the title of an airplane, would have prestige, they feel, even abroad. Incidental to directing the airplane factory, Lindbergh could devote some time to encouragement of the construction of airdromes and other facilities in the principal cities and larger towns. He could thus render the most valuable service imaginable to aviation.

Washington Flooded With Demands For Aviation Progress

CONCRETE EVIDENCE OF RESULT OF LINDY'S FLIGHT SEEN IN NATION-WIDE INTEREST

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 14.—A monster conference to advance commercial aviation in the United States, will be called by the aviation division of the department of commerce for next fall, it was indicated today.

Aircraft manufacturers, designers, outstanding pilots and others interested in seeing America develop a huge network of air lines, will be invited to discuss ways and means of achieving that purpose.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, whose lone flight from New York to Paris set the whole country talking aviation, probably will be invited to give his expert recommendations.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Flag day found the federal city flooded with demands from all parts of the country for facts and figures about aviation.

Here is tangible evidence of what Colonel Lindbergh's conquest of the Atlantic already has done to arouse his nation's interest in the opportunities and obligations of the airplane age upon which the world is entering.

Governors of states all over the Union are writing in to the executive departments at Washington to get data about aviation which they are entering.

The Oakland committee has employed Harlan Bartholomew, perhaps the most widely known city planner and traffic regulation expert in the world, to work out their streets, highways and industrial location problems.

Suit Pends For Gambling Raid

MARTINEZ, June 14.—As the result of a raid in which Clyde Laird, chief of the county prohibition squad and squad operatives, are alleged to have done "wanton and malicious damage" to the property in which a Chinese lottery was located in Pittsburg, suit is likely to be filed for approximately $800, according to an announcement made today by Attorney T. D. Johnston. Johnston declared that the Chinese would file one suit and the owner of the property would probably file another.

Members of the raiding squad denied the charges, saying that only force sufficient to gain entrance was used. This entailed the breaking down of two doors after entrance was refused. In the raid four Chinese were arrested and fined $100 each while sixteen patrons of the place had to pay $5 each.

YOU'RE DERN RIGHT

MR. GLAZIER
FALLON, Nev., June 1-3.—C. E. Glazier, Lahontan valley rancher, has found that hunters pay but little attention to the ordinary "No Hunting" signs, so in conspicuous places around his ranch he has posted the following classic:

"No Hunting, Notice! Trespassers will be prosecuted to the full extent of two mongrel dogs, which were never over, scorable to strangers, and one double-barrel shotgun, which ain't loaded with no sofa pillows! Dam if I ain't getting tired of this hell raisin' on my place.—C. E. Glazier."

A GREAT FLIGHT

Credit should be given to Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine for their diplomatic wisdom in flying to Berlin.

They show the world that America has forgotten the animosities of the war and that we are ready to be friends with every one.

If Lindbergh's and Chamberlin's flights had been arranged by government supervision they could not have been better planned.

As impromptu ambassadors they have lived up to the finest traditions of democratic diplomacy. More power to such as they!

QUIT JAMMING THE AIR!

The public has no sympathy with radio stations that embarrass the Radio Commission in its efforts to clear the air.

The commission has done a good job in its re-assignment of wave lengths.

It has listened patiently to the complaints of broadcasters.

It has made proper readjustments.

It has left room for future improvements.

Time has come now for the common good to put up with the situation.

Stations that fail to do this will be shut up by popular disapproval.

LOOSE TALK

Loose talk might easily mar the complete success of America's two recent remarkable aviation achievements.

One gentleman is already reported to have said that one hop was a greater feat than the other.

Bunk!
If the gentleman is correctly quoted he should be quietly but firmly told that the value of no feat is ever advanced by trying to talk down what some one else has accomplished.

What made Lindbergh's flight truly remarkable was the modest way in which he viewed it himself.

Every one connected with either flight, by virtue of relationship or friendship, should keep Lindy's example in mind and pipe down on loose talk that can never possibly start anything but trouble.

What it's all about

By PAUL ALLEN

SEVEN KISSES A YEAR ARE

too few, according to the wise opinion of a Los Angeles court on married life.

Readers who think that judges are cold, remote beings, whose opinions are far removed from humanity's needs, ponder these words of truth as expounded by Judge J. W. Summerfield: "Temperamental people demand more affection than complacent people—youth more than age." Then, because the plaintiff was a youth whose allotment of kisses had been cut to seven per annum, a divorce was granted. Solomon is dead, but his spirit lives on.

While we're on this subject, let's listen to a word from E. A. J., who does not want to "offend" you, but evidently you believe that comets are not dangerous. Exactly three years ago Prof. Charles T. Doolittle, a well-known astronomer, pointed out the fact that most heads of comets contain cyanogen, a lethal gas that has been recently used in the execution of criminals.

TALKING ABOUT AGE, AS every one does, along comes A. M. W., with a basket-teeming bit of verse. Are you ready? Here goes:

Now, Mr. What's It's All About, You say you have, and I've no doubt, June poems by the gallon;

A question rises: I must ask—Oh, please don't let this hit that basket—

How old are you, Paul Allen?

TALKING ABOUT AGE, AS gotten, A. M. W. Answer me another! Do you expect me to fall for your line of molasses when I say:

You seem so very sage and wise; Say, have you lived 1,000 lives, Or are you just beginning?

You seem to know about the stars! What are they doing now in Mars? Are they, like earth folks, sinning?

PERHAPS BY NOW YOU'VE forgotten my firm decision to put every June poem into the wastebasket. To show you that I can be equally firm about changing my mind, I'll publish even the last verse of your contribution, in which (am I mistaken?), you are ragging me:

Oh, please don't pull that comet's tail. And make it gnash its teeth and wall.

And cry for war and woe; If at us it should make a lunge And with us into chaos plunge I'll yell: "I TOLD YOU SO!"

"WHY DON'T YOU BELIEVE in the stars," demands Emily Rathbone of Doughty-keepsie. "Astrologers predicted a cold spring, and haven't we had it?" Sure, some of us have. But what about the folks over in Vienna, Austria, who were overcome by a heat wave last week—the worst since the war? Or don't the stars influence Austrian climate.

Health Shines Through A Good Complexion

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

Vanity and pride in personal appearance are two entirely different things. A girl may be chided for being vain, but she should be commended for taking real pride in the care of her complexion, hair, hands and eyes.

That is why I am taking sides with Evelyn, who writes me this letter:

"My mother tells me I am vain and foolish because I spend too much time every morning with my toilet. When I get up in the morning I have a regular routine which I go through. It takes me a half or three-quarters of an hour, and she tells me that it would be far better if I were to spend the time sleeping. I do deep-breathing exercises, take a cold shower, give my hair forty strokes and manicure my nails every morning."

The schedule you have set up for yourself, Evelyn, seems to me an excellent one. Your mother should be proud of you that you take such care and pains with your personal appearance. I only wish more girls considered it important.

Don't be afraid to admit your ing hours, compromise by going to bed a half hour earlier. An extra bit of sleep cannot hurt you and it will undoubtedly do you a great deal of good.

Rena: A thick coat of powder can never cover up skin blemishes. In fact, too much powder will only make it worse. Give your skin a chance to get a good wholesome airing. The pores cannot function properly if they are continually clogged with foreign matter. Always steam and chilling your face with ice. This will help clear your complexion.

Questions concerning beauty building through physical culture will receive the personal attention of Lady Grey, beauty culturist, and should be signed by the writer's full name and address, which will not be used without permission. Address her, care of this newspaper.

VIGOROUS HEALTH

By PAUL J. VEATCH, D. P. S. T. I have had a varicose ulcer for a year and a half. Please advise a long sufferer.

JOHN C.

Such a condition is really not difficult to heal if the proper treatment can be secured. This consists of fasting and the milk diet taken in bed, together with sun baths of ultra-violet radiations.

I should like to see a little article by you on rhinitis. Have had this for some time. RUTH F.

Rhinitis is simply a form of catarrh. It is due to an accumulation of toxins in the system as a result of improper diet, lack of fresh air and other wrong habits of living. The usual treatment by natural methods includes an acid fruit diet with daily enema for up to five days, followed by a largely raw fruit and vegetable diet, together with deep breathing, general exercise, sun baths and cold baths. Of course tobacco must not be used.

I have a lump in the pit of my stomach and much gas. Had fibroid removed in March. If I walk a little my knees commence to tremble. MRS. A. V. G.

Your trouble is no doubt due to the fact that the causes of the tumor have not been removed, but adhesions and other disturbances have resulted from the operation. The usual treatment by natural methods would be repeated vegetable broth diets of three days at intervals of two weeks, with a largely raw food diet between, observing simplicity in meals and practicing thorough mastication. Graduated exercises in a reclining position, hot and cold sitz baths, deep breathing and plenty of rest and sleep would also be helpful.

I am suffering with a gastric neurosis or nervous indigestion. Have been treated by fasts, diets, etc. Now I have another attack of indigestion but the doctor does not advise me to fast, as I am too weak. He gave me a medicine and diet. Please advise. P. D.

Medicine will certainly do you no good. A complete rest will probably not be indicated but when the stomach is much upset little food, if any food should be eaten. The usual treatment would be vegetable broth for a day or so, followed by the exclusive milk diet, together with alternate hot and cold sitz baths, the practice of relaxation, deep breathing and autogenetic and also spinal manipulation.

I always feel chilly in the house in the evening after sundown. Is this due to poor blood? How can I get rid of bad breath and thick saliva? DAILY READER.

The chilly sensation may be due to poor blood or poor circulation, but the fundamental causes would be improper diet, lack of exercise and fresh air. These same causes are responsible for the bad breath and thick saliva. Sleeping with the mouth open may be part of the cause. This can be corrected by tying the jaw shut. You would probably find a few days on acid fruits with daily enema very helpful. After this a largely raw food diet of milk, nuts, whole-grain cereals and dairy products would be used, drinking plenty of water between meals. Exercise, cool baths and deep breathing are used regularly.

I have lumbago, neuritis, catarrh and low blood pressure. I tried an orange diet for eight days without results. When I tried to fast the pains got worse. How do you account for that? YOUNG MAN.

The increase in pain when you fast is due to the fact that the real condition becomes more apparent. If the fast is continued as long as necessary and due attention given to the other measures required the pains will be eliminated. Rest of the affected parts is generally required until pain has been relieved. Hot applications are helpful and spinal manipulation may be required. Another orange diet, followed by a largely raw fruit and vegetable diet, would seem to be indicated. Tobacco must not be used in any form.

Beige is the outstanding shade in footwear. Unusually lovely is the single-strap pump in rose beige kidskin effectively piped in a dark color. The three-quarter Oxford of parchment kid, with mottled leather trim, is also a favorite.

For tots of 2 and 3 years the smartest playtime outfit is the quaint little creeper of novelty colored prints with collar, cuffs and pocket trim in contrasting color.

The successful athlete in contest is the one who puts his mind into his muscles.

Irish Hearts

By MOLLIE MALONE

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"IRISH HEARTS," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. pictureization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Emmett Murtough, of Killannaul, Ireland, emigrates to America and is followed by Sheila Kildare, to whom he is betrothed, and her father. Both men boast of what they are going to do but neither will hold a steady job. Sheila makes friends with the family of Rory O'Shea, a professional boxer, who falls in love with her. Murtough drives a truck for a band of bootleggers, is shot by henchmen and takes refuge with the Kildares.

Old Tom put Emmett to bed in Sheila's room while she fixed a place on the parlor couch for her self. Her father always slept on a cot which was put up for him every night in the kitchen.

Murtough's wound was not as trivial as was first believed. He developed a high fever by that afternoon and required constant care and attention on the part of Old Tom by day and Sheila until far into the night. The helplessness of Murtough softened the heart of Sheila toward him. He was truly grateful and the gratitude that poured from his lips was like a return of the Emmett Kildare that Sheila had known when they were in their teens back in Killannaul. Irish gallantries accompanied his thanks to her, spoken gently, and he seemed to lean upon her for strength to get well.

The viciousness that had marked him after he began his association with the West End Club passed from him. He was not permitted to drink and Sheila believed that his former surlyness must have been due to bad companions and liquor.

She had had no word from Rory O'Shea in six weeks and what with

WE HEAR NO MORE OF CAPTAIN DRAKE, THE SEA ROVER. HE NOW ASCENDS THE PLANE OF THE GREAT MILITARY LEADERS, STATESMEN AND ENGLISH ADMIRALS. FOR FOUR YEARS HE REMAINED ASHORE, BUT ALWAYS BUSILY EMPLOYED. HIS WIFE HAVING DIED THE YEAR BEFORE DRAKE, NOW ABOUT FORTY-FOUR YEARS OF AGE, WOOD AND WOOD MARY SYDENHAM, A GIRL STILL IN HER TEENS AND THE DAUGHTER OF THE NIGHTLY HOUSE OF SOMERSETSHIRE, MINGLED WITH THE WEDDING BELLS CAME TO THE BRIDEGROOM'S EARS THE CALL TO BATTLE.

Adolphe Menjou Kathryn Carver Confirm Troth

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Rumors of the engagement of Adolphe Menjou and pretty blond Kathryn Carver that have been going the rounds of Hollywood motion picture circles for some time were confirmed today with the admission by both celebrities that they are to wed.

Announcement of the engagement recalls Menjou's statement last year that he always fell in love with his leading lady. The star and the beautiful New York woman are playing opposite each other at the present time.

Miss Carver, formerly the wife of Ira Hill, a New York society photographer, and Menjou are looking forward to their final divorce decrees. The actor's final decree becomes effective in October and Miss Carver will receive her final decree next May.

According to friends Menjou, who won stardom by his work in "A Woman of Paris," will go abroad with Miss Carver to make pictures when his present contract ends.

S. F. Defeats Street Car, Water Bonds

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Four bond issues totalling $50,000,000 were voted upon at a special election today.

The projects voted on were the Bernal cut $1,400,000, carried; it provides for a new highway with provisions for the proposed municipal railway extensions; construction of memorial hall including a public opera house and art gallery at $4,000,000, carried; municipal railway extension $4,700,000, defeated; purchase of Spring Valley water company properties, $40,000,000, defeated.

Irish Women Wear Sport Gowns This Year's Season

(By Universal Service)
DUBLIN, June 14.—Irish women are wearing the shortest of frocks at the fashionable Spring Show. Rose and hyacinth blue for their hats and trimmings, and pastel shades and greys for their gowns are the prevailing colors. But it is obvious that the priestly tirade against abbreviated frocks have had little effect.

Curiously enough among the very poor in Dublin, bobbed hair is regarded as undignified, and among the rich, long hair is called vulgar.

Irish men refuse absolutely to adopt fashion in their attire, and ignore all London efforts at conversion.

Cigar Smoking Loses To Fags In Britain

LONDON, June 14.—Cigar smoking has shown a markedly increasing decline in Britain during the past twenty-five years.

Americans smoke one cigar to every 14 cigarettes, and Frenchmen one cigar to every 40 cigarettes; but in Britain the ratio is only one cigar to every 400 cigarettes.

These statistics were officially given at the Tobacco Trade Congress, officials of which declare that the decrease in cigar smoking is due to the popularity of the cigarette and that the younger generation must be introduced to the cigar at all costs.

Actually, the main decline is probably due to the fact that cigars are nearly 30 per cent dearer in Britain than in pre-war days and it is impossible to get one really smokable under 50 cents.

FILM ACTRESS CAPTIVES HELD FOR RANSOM IN NICARAGUA RAID

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Mrs. Anne Phillip, mother of Madge Bellamy, film star, will appear as a witness before the federal grand jury when it resumes its inquiry into an asserted Orange county rum smuggling combine tomorrow, according to Assistant United States District Attorney George O'Connell.

Mrs. Phillip, it was said, will be requested to tell what she knew of conditions a year ago in Orange county jail where she is said to have visited Clyde Williams then serving a sentence for a dry law violation.

Miss Bellamy is in no way connected with the case, the United States district attorney declared today after Mrs. Phillip had appeared at his office for questioning. He said:

"The government is satisfied that Miss Bellamy knows nothing whatever of conditions in the Orange county jail in connection with the rum smuggling, nor has she ever visited the jail."

The grand jury inquiry concerns the alleged smuggling of millions of dollars worth of liquor representing the cargoes of twenty rum ships across the Orange county coast line during the past three or four years. Mrs. Phillip's visits to the Orange county jail are said by federal agents to have been about the time when a quantity of confiscated liquor was removed from the old Orange county courthouse and resold. Headed the list of those accused in the rum probe are two Orange county officials.

PACIFIC FLEET VESSELS TO BE PUT ON BLOCK

that among the companies seeking purchase of these vessels are Selden & Christensen, Wayne & Hoyt, the Dollar Line, Williams-Dimond Cotton company, Columbia-Pacific Navigation company of Portland and several Seattle and Tacoma lines. The prospective sale, if negotiated, will be about the largest shipping transaction in American history. There are 375,000 gross tons of modern ships in the fleet of 41 freighters to be placed on the block. With their sale the United States will be completely out of the shipping business on the Pacific coast.

The lines involved are the American-Australian-Oriental, the Oregon Oriental and the American Oriental mail. The lines are operating out of Los Angeles, Portland, San Francisco and Seattle.

Under the government operation they are losing a comparatively small sum, and the shipping boats believe they may be profitably operated by private owners.

Wine Chief To Make Tour In California

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A two weeks' tour of California wineries to gather data on the problems of vintners and their relation to prohibition, will be made by H. Keith Weeks, supervisor of wine control. It was announced today by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lincoln C. Andrews.

Chief of the problems is the surplus of wine for which restricted medicinal and sacramental use are the only outlet, according to Andrews. The California wine field is the least known of all the areas having a bearing on prohibition, Andrews said.

He added that the tour was "not with a view to revoking permits," and had nothing to do with charges sometime ago that California grapes were a big source of supply for illegal wine manufacture in the east.

Weeks left yesterday. He will go first to Los Angeles.

Praise Lindy's Coolness During Crash In Midair

Another amazing chapter of Col. Charles Lindbergh's life. Of the days when he "barnstormed" about the country, daily risking his life, traveling "light" as the troopers term it, without a saddle or grip, and "just a toothbrush" in his cavernous flying pockets.

"And I don't know what jazz is," he has often told his few intimate friends.

He was a dreamer, but not a dawdler.

"MOTHER" LINDBERGH'S OWN STORY

At Told By His Mother to ROBERT CAMPBELL

*ARTICLE NO. 6

Col. Charles Lindbergh is no squanderer of time. He is like a busy bee. He is no dilettante or shirker. The "feel" of a monkey wrench is far more pleasing to him than the crush of an opera hat.

He is no "jumping jigger." He knows naught of the modern dance—or the old-fashioned ones, either.

"I don't know what jazz is," he has often said to flying chums. Always tinkering.

Look at him as he comes from the field. His "fingernails" in mourning, tinkering, working out some solution of a "wild idea" to overcome further the law of gravitation.

The Pale Rider has reached bony hands for him several times, but he has come through with a nonchalance that shows his remarkable skill and coolness when danger beckons.

"He is venturesome, 'tis true," said Eddie Stinson, himself a noted aviator, "but he is distinctly NOT reckless."

BRAINY, NOT LUCKY
"He isn't lucky, he's wonderfully methodical and almost unaffably efficient. And in danger, clutch he is the coolest of all, always doing the precise and right thing."

Probably no honor that has come to him is more prized than the one he won March 6, 1925, at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex., from where nine days later he was graduated as a (reserve) second lieutenant in the air corps.

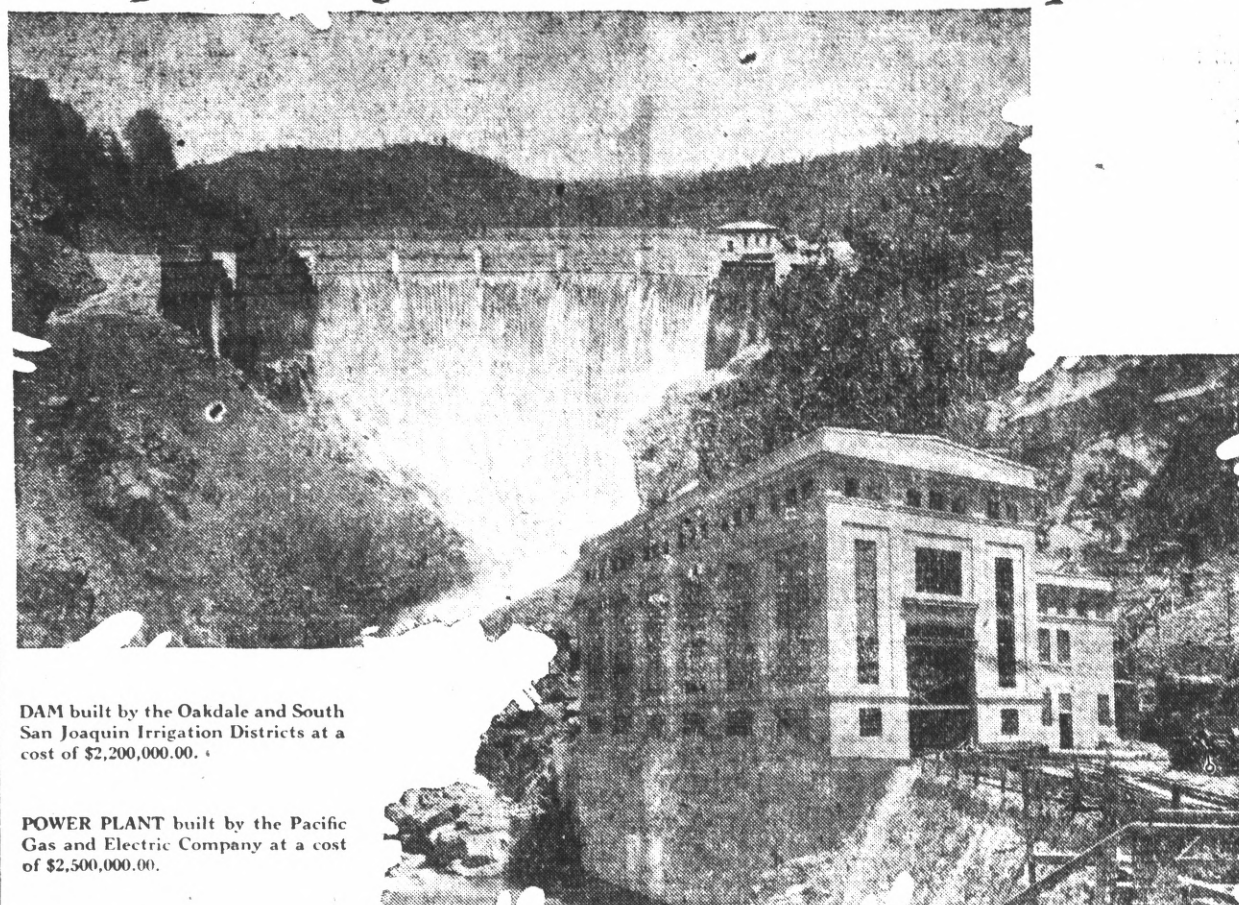

Capt. Lindbergh's life was never in greater danger than on this March day two years ago on this Lone Star state. It was for his membership in the famous Caterpillar Club, held by flyers the most exclusive organization having to do with aeronautics.

CRASHES IN AIR
He went up on this day to do his bit in the battle maneuvers. He was ordered, with Lieut. C. D. McAllister, both in separate planes, to attack the enemy.

In a cloud they ran head on into each other with terrific force. The crash was heard on the ground and blanched the faces of the watching army men.

Lindbergh and McAllister waved at each other, smiled, climbed out of their cockpits, along their wings and took off, with their machines hurtling down above them in a straight line.

Irrigation Districts and Power Company Complete Big Water-Power Development

DAM built by the Oakdale and South San Joaquin Irrigation Districts at a cost of $2,200,000.00.

POWER PLANT built by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company at a cost of $2,500,000.00.

THE MELONES PROJECT demonstrates a principle that farmers primarily interested in water for irrigation and power companies primarily interested in water for power, although adhering to their primary interests, can aid each other. In exchange for the use of water passing through this power house the Pacific Gas and Electric Company will pay the Districts the sum of $5,175,000.00 over a period of forty years, this amount entirely paying off the bonded indebtedness of the Districts, plus interest. The farmers get water for irrigation without cost.

BASS FISHING CONTEST LINED UP BY DOUGALL

A striped bass fishing contest for all local disciples of Isaac Walton was announced yesterday by R. B. Dougall of the Dougall Hardware and Sporting Goods store here.

Dougall will offer a bass fishing rod for the Richmond fisherman landing the largest striped of the year. The contest will close on October 31 and will be open to anyone residing here. All fishermen wishing to enter the contest are asked to register with Dougall, it was announced yesterday.

Cal Rich, well known Richmond fisherman, caught one of the largest fish of the season yesterday when he landed a 16 1/4 pound striped bass at Vallejo Junction. The fish will be placed on ice and exhibited in the window of the Dougall Hardware store after 4 o'clock this afternoon.

W. V. Remell continues to lead the members of the Richmond Fire Department in the firemen's contest for the largest bass of the season. Remell recently landed an 8 1/4 pounder. The winner of the contest will be awarded a bass fishing pole by Dougall.

Club Women Want Lindy In Movie

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, June 14.—America's club women want Lindbergh to be the star of their movie depicting the home life of the nation.

An invitation to take part in the picture was sent him today by the general federation of women's clubs. Explaining the idea, Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the federation, said:

"The picture, produced and sponsored by the women of America, will constitute a monument both to Colonel Lindbergh, our finest type of American manhood, to his mother, whose influence has been a guiding factor throughout his entire career, and will ever serve as a reminder of the pioneers of the air to those who may come after."

CROP SLUMP IN CONTRA COSTA COUNTY IS SEEN

CONCORD, June 14.—Fruit production and almond crops in Contra Costa valley districts are far from normal this year, according to Frank Rose of Concord farm bureau, who has just completed a survey.

The drop from normalcy is due to late rains and frost, Rose asserts. The early almond crop is approximately 20 per cent of normal and the late crop about 35 per cent, according to the survey.

Apricots will go about 60 per cent, the report shows, and pears from 15 to 30 per cent off.

Clayton Valley, Ygnacio Valley, Vine Hill and Alhambra Valley sections are included in the survey made by the local man.

The Grape Growers' association has set $40 per ton as this year's price on the grape juice variety, according to Rose, who declares that demand for Contra Costa fruit will be pressing this year.

Tariff Correction Is Applied For

Application has been made by F. W. Gomph, as agent for the Pacific Freight Tariff Bureau, to the state railroad commission for authority to correct in the tariff of that association the discrimination in favor of Richmond in the matter of rates on crushed rock, sand and gravel. The Southern Pacific Company has filed a similar application.

SYMBOLS OF SAFETY

In the World War steel and concrete "pill boxes" afforded the fighting men their greatest protection against the violence of high explosive. The same indestructible materials are employed in the construction of modern safe deposit vaults and they offer the maximum of security to those that desire exceptional safeguards for valuable articles. The Richmond Branch is exceptionally well equipped to provide this protection.

SPORTS

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

CHASE BABE AND HE GOES FASTER!
Babe Ruth not only can knock home runs. He can knock 'em out under PRESSURE.
Pressed by Lou Gehrig, his Yankee teammate, who has already belted fourteen round-trip tickets, Ruth hasn't wilted under the strain. Every time Gehrig hits one Ruth matches it. He has twenty-one to date and he is just beginning to feel the ball.
Old timers can talk all they want of Deleahanty and other famous sluggers. Ruth is probably the greatest natural hitter the game has ever known despite the fact that his build is not what it should be.
Ruth, depending in scant measure on the speed of his underpinning, has legs like a long-distance runner. His legs will probably end his career, when it does end, for the upper part of his body is so heavily constructed that the strain of carrying it will eventually be felt down below. A big leaguer first starts going to pieces in the calves and ankles. The batting eye is last to go if a player keeps free of the wine, women and song trinity.

Apart from Jack Dempsey, Ruth is the most colorful product of modern sport.

These two, in singular measure, appeal to sport fans as no others. Their identification with tremendous hitting no doubt explains some of their popularity. The crowd loves the big smash, and Dempsey, in the ring, and Ruth, in baseball, have glorified the Clout as seldom it has been glorified.

HARD TO WIN, HARDER TO EXPLAIN
There is something else about Dempsey and Ruth that has made them popular idols.

Regardless of their professional talents, they are regular in the fullest sense of the word.

Ruth, stopping after a World Series long enough to visit the bedside of a sick boy; Dempsey halting in his training for a big fight to pass through the wards of a children's hospital, appeal to instincts that are rooted in the hearts of the crowd.

Ruth refusing to alibi himself after his one bad season with the Yankees; Dempsey scolding alibis after losing to Tunney, prove themselves as big as the fans imagined them to be.

There are a lot of factors which enter into the fragile thing called popularity.

The possession of one single outstanding factor is not enough. Lindbergh did more to bulwark his popularity AFTER arriving in Europe than during the trip across. His modesty and his thoughtfulness have been attributed to Ambassador Herrick, but unless the kid had these traits born in him the counsel of Herrick could not have made him act that way.

No one will ever analyze the various causes which have made Ruth a national idol or Dempsey the most popular fighter of the twentieth century.

An analysis is not necessary, anyway: it is sufficient that Ruth, the Baltimore orphan, and Dempsey, a Salt Lake hoboe have all the romantic appeal of a Horatio Alger hero.

PLOT TO TAKE TITLE DENIED BY EX-CHAMP

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, June 14.—Jack Dempsey merely sniffs at the idea that any form of hocuspocus was planned to deprive him of his title in the battle with Gene Tunney last September.

"It's all bunk," declared the ex-champion, in answer to allegations that there was some sort of deal afoot whereby, if he out-punched Tunney, or knocked him out with a punch to the body, he was to lose the decision or be disqualified for foul.

"I read in some of the papers," communicated Dempsey, "that there's insinuation that I was to be jobbed, if necessary, so as to make Tunney a winner. I'd imagine from what I read that Tunney and his manager are supposed to have made some sort of deal with Max Hoff which was designed to steal the fight, if necessary, for Tunney."

"That's a joke. On the face of things the story is discredited. For if Tommy Reilly, the referee, had been in there for the purpose of clinching a victory for Tunney, he could have done so early in the fight without subjecting Tunney to any risk of my hitting him on the whiskers and flattening him out."

"I've long been accused of using a rabbit punch. My answer is that I never have used the real rabbit punch. That's a punch delivered with the heel of the fist, and used like a hammer. When I've hit men in back of the neck, it has been a cuffing sort of blow—not the hammer stroke rabbit punch."

"Yet the Philadelphia officials decided that even a cuffing punch was a rabbit blow and would make the man using it liable to disqualification. Tunney has declared since the fight that I cuffed him with that punch several times. I don't recall that I did. But I don't deny it, because in the excitement of battle, a fellow does a lot of things which are not recorded in his memory."

"Assuming that Tunney is right—well, if Reilly had been in that ring for the purpose of clinching a Tunney victory, he could have disqualified me then and there, couldn't he? The fact that he didn't and that he never warned me, indicated one of two things: (1) that I never used the punch, or, (2) that if I did, Reilly saw no reason to disqualify me for it."

"I'll admit that Tunney was in front all the way. But everybody—even Tunney—will admit that I was fairly dangerous. I was in there trying, I wanted to shoot home to the chin. Had I connected I might have saved the title. There always was danger that I might land."

"Now, if Reilly was operating that night to help Tunney, he wouldn't have subjected Tunney any longer than necessary to a crack on the chin, would he? He'd have disqualified me and ended the fight, wouldn't he, at the very first opportunity?"

"I've mingled in more than 70 battles during my ring career—and I never got a fairer or squarer deal than I was given me in Philadelphia. Reilly gave me a 100 per cent break. No man could have been more honest than he was. Never, by word or act, did he try to handicap me or annoy me."

"And I can't say as much for all the other referees that have worked in my fights. Some of them have broken me from clinches in a way that left me wide open for the other fellow's punches. Some have done some warning that was entirely useless and uncalled for, and which was not helpful to me, and which always gave me a fair break. He never gave Tunney an advantage in anything. He operated with but one thought in mind. And that was to make us fight, and to let the issue be decided wholly upon its merits. And because of that, I want to say that he was the best referee that ever figured in any of my fights."

"Not only did I get a fair deal from Reilly, but I got one from the entire membership of the Philadelphia Athletic commission. They proved themselves to be real sportsmen and gentlemen."

"And so, it strikes me as a mighty rough thing on all those fellows to have it insinuated that somebody fixed, attempted to fix, or even promised to fix things so that I couldn't win, even if I whipped Tunney cleanly and decisively."

Roy Bliss and Ridge Greathouse, the opposing twirlers, each allowed eight hits, but it was simply a case of too much Sannies. British Migration Plan Meets Favor In Australia

ADELAIDE, June 14.—Strongest support for the British government's migration scheme was expressed recently by Mr. Butler, the new premier for South Australia. Migration, Butler declared, was considered one of the most important features of governmental policy, and offered splendid opportunities for expansion and production on sound lines.

It is declared that South Australia is well able to absorb approved emigrants from England without the least danger of causing local unemployment, and it is expected that there will be a large flocking of greatly needed workers to Southern Australia sections as a result of the heavy restrictions being laid on immigration by the United States, thus closing one important door to thousands of British workers who otherwise would go to America.

A cigarette if you ask me

WRITE it down that Prince Albert makes the grandest home-rolled cigarette ever. I'll sign my name to that! Why, the instant you get that glorious whiff of the tobacco itself, you know it's going to taste simply great in a cigarette. Then you roll one and prove it.

Cool as a notice that you have overdrawn your account. Sweet as the recollection that a big deposit is on its way. Mild as a summer flirtation—mild, but with that full cigarette body that satisfies to the limit on every puff. That's the kind of a cigarette P.A. makes.

Just try rolling 'em with P.A. Get yourself some of this grand old tobacco today. Put a thimbleful in a makin' paper and take out a barrelful of smoke-joy. Morning till midnight—that's your smoke-program with this better cigarette tobacco. Just put it up to P.A.

Another way to enjoy Prince Albert is in the bowl of a pipe. No matter what your previous experience with a pipe, try P.A. Here's a brand you can tie to for life. It won't bite your tongue and it won't parch your throat. But it will give you the best pipe-session you ever had.

P.A. is sold everywhere. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

HEART TROUBLE

Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart trouble that it affected her left hand. She could not rest with the slightest comfort. All the physicians whom she consulted pressed the opinion that she had no more than a few days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest in many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herbs, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herbs Co.:

POWER HIGH LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herbs Co.: I have been a sufferer with valvular disease of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herbs Co. and is the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.
